Dear First-Year PhD Students,
We would like to inform you that PhD seminars will be held on an individual basis from January 2027.
The timetable does not include Health and safety training, e-Learning course and Training on the Principles of Using Artificial Intelligence, which must be completed online via the platform: https://e-studia.usz.edu.pl/. Health and safety training will be available to you until 16 October this year, whilst e-Learning Training and Training on the Principles of Using Artificial Intelligence are available at all times. These modules are compulsory for completion in the first semester.
